2025 HOUSING GUIDE

HOUSING CARE OPTIONS

INDEPENDENT LIVING:

Typically designed as a studio, one-bedroom or two-bedroom rental apartments with full kitchens and private baths. Services generally include meal plans, transportation, wellness centers, housekeeping, laundry and maintenance. Generous amenities may include computers, swimming pool and social gathering halls. Rates are monthly and vary according to apartment size. Private pay and some insurance plans are accepted.

ASSISTED LIVING:

Assisted Living are non-skilled facilities that provide assistance with medications and activities of daily living, such as laundry, bathing and dressing. Assisted Living is generally private pay, but HUD subsidizes some Assisted Living facilities.

SKILLED NURSING:

Typically found in a nursing facility or a transitional care unit in the hospital. Daily rates generally include a furnished bedroom, private or shared bath, meals, transportation and all personal and nursing care. Payor sources typically accepted are Medicare, Medicaid, VA, some insurances and private pay.

CONTINUING CARE RETIREMENT COMMUNITY:

These facilities offer a campus-style environment that may include apartments, duplexes or condos with assisted living and/or skilled nursing care available. Residents purchase their condo and pay monthly maintenance fees. Payor sources accepted are private pay in the apartments/duplexes/condos and some insurance plans in Assisted Living.

A COMPREHENSIVE REFERRAL SOURCE

For Discharge Planners, Healthcare Professionals & Patient Advocates

Since 2003, Senior Preferences is the one publication that compiles a comprehensive list of community organizations and businesses that cater to the specific needs of seniors. Our six regional editions cover 46 counties in lower Michigan and reach over 100,000 potential users.

Distributed free, Senior Preferences gets in the hands of those professionals who assist seniors who need healthcare, a residential community, or other services such as legal or financial. Copies are available through:

“

Senior Preferences is the premier resource guide for our area. Our staff at WellWise Services Area Agency on Aging use Senior Preferences as a regular addition to our information packets, at health fairs and expos, and as a resource to help connect older adults, adults with disabilities, families, and caregivers to so many agencies and companies in our area. Having the information handy is vital to the work we do, as we strive to help people navigate the options for services that will help them live their best life.
